POP NOTES

October 2026 Volume 64 Number 10

Reforming is Rethinking about Yourself

As I sit here to write this newsletter article, it is the day before my heart catheterization. It is two and a half years since all this craziness with my health struggles began. While I feel good, there are things that I need to come to a realization about. I have significant changes that I must make in my life. I must make changes that will lead me to better health and thus will allow me to fully live out my calling in Christ.

This is what Reformation is in the end – making changes to assure that the Gospel is rightly preached and lived out through the Church. Luther saw how the Church had begun to not see the Gospel as a freeing and liberating word for life, but as a way to extract more from the people than their worship and faithful living. The gospel was seen as the thing that freed people of sin and death, but the selling of indulgences to get people freed by their own work. Luther knew that our freedom came by God's free gift of grace through our faith. Luther saw what was wrong with the Church, wrote about it with a prescription for its healing and reformed and reshaped its life so that it could be healthier and so that faith could be lived out in every part of its life and ministry.

My changes will be to my eating habits, exercise regiment, and creating a healthier work/life balance. I am beginning to put together a reformation plan for my life. I recognize the dis-ease in my life and am working to find a better way. I will take more time for daily devotion, spending time with God and growing my faith. I will spend more quality time with Jen and my family. I will change the priorities of my life so that I can better live out who God is calling me to be.

Just like the reality that the Church needed to change during the Reformation, so it is with us that we must recognize the places within ourselves that need reforming. I ask you to look within yourselves and see the places of reformation that you may need. It may be in lifestyle, it may be in how you practice your faith, it may be in how you care for your mental health, but do not be afraid to look deeper. God is calling each of us to be the best version of ourselves that we can be. For that to happen for me, it requires change. It requires reforming how I see things.

I invite you to join me on this journey. I invite you to look deep within yourself to find the changes that will make you the best version of who God is calling you to be. Our journeys will look different, but our goal is the same: better living for God and for ourselves.

Yours in Christ,

Pastor Bill

Monthly Bible Quotes

He will feed his flock like a shepherd. He will carry the lambs in his arms, holding them close to his heart. He will gently lead the mother sheep with their young. ~
Isaiah 40:11

Such things were written in the Scriptures long ago to teach us. They give us hope and encouragement as we wait patiently for God's promises. So I pray that God who gives you hope, will keep you happy and full of peace as you believe in him. May you overflow with hope through the power of the Holy Spirit.
~ Romans 15: 4 and 13

Winning the Prize

We like winning! How did you feel the last time you won a card game, a board game, a tennis match, or a round of golf? Winning gives us great joy. Whether the winning prize is money, ribbons, trophies, or just an “attaboy” or “attagirl,” we work harder, and we give it our maximum effort to earn the prize.

In the 9th chapter of 1 Corinthians, the Apostle Paul refers to the contest of running. To be the fastest runner, runners go through disciplined training to make themselves faster so they can cross the finish line first and win the prize. 1 Corinthians 9:24-25 reads, “Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one receives the prize? So run that you may obtain it. Every athlete exercises self-control in all things. They do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable.” The Apostle Paul urges Christians to live their faith with that same drive, purpose, and commitment seeking to honor God. He refers to a much more important event than runners running a race to win a prize that won’t last. He refers to a race that involves life and death. The special prize that Paul refers to in these verses is the imperishable prize of eternal life rather than temporary pleasures. The prize is a life with Jesus forever!

Although Paul contrasted the two different prizes, he does refer to the similarities in the effort needed to run both races. Runners train diligently for their races through strict training. The Christian disciplines himself, making his body his "slave," all "for the sake of the Gospel, that [he] may share with them in its blessings" (1 Corinthians 9:23). We are filled and refreshed as we spend time in God's Word, worship regularly, pray often, and receive His Sacraments. As Christians, we know we can be faithful in what we do because God is within us, and He strengthens us. He entrusts us with time, talent, and money to be His instruments of service to others. God calls us to be faithful in our service to Him through serving others. "So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith" (Galatians 6:10).

As God's people, we need to keep our focus on the all-important prize and, with God's help, not to allow temporary successes in this life interfere with the goal of receiving the most wonderful prize which is eternal life with Him. As the Apostle Paul told the church in Corinth, "Thanks be to God for His inexpressible gift!" (2 Corinthians 9:15).

Luther and the Bible

Reformation Day is celebrated by many Protestant churches on October 31. It commemorates the Reformation and honors leaders such as Martin Luther, whose courage and conviction helped shape church history.

Luther's life was threatened because he spoke out against practices he believed did not reflect the true mission of the Church. Forced into hiding, he found refuge at Wartburg Castle as the guest of the ruler of Saxony.

While there, Luther took on an enormous task: translating the Bible from the original languages into German. This was no simple project. At the time, Germany was made up of many regional dialects, making communication difficult from one area to another.

Luther wanted ordinary people to clearly understand God's Word. To make sure his translation used everyday language, he is said to have listened carefully to common speech, even consulting the castle's butcher for familiar expressions and wording.

Luther's translation became a tremendous gift to the German people. Not only did it place Scripture into the hands of everyday readers, but the language he used also helped unify the many German dialects. In that sense, Martin Luther is often considered one of the fathers of the modern German language.

Make Your Blessings Count

Years ago, a newspaper shared the story of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Illingworth, an elderly Christian couple known for quiet, faithful service. Early in their marriage, they decided to use the gifts God had given them to bless others.

Through the years, they served through their church and in life-care retirement homes, offering time, kindness and generosity wherever they were needed. When a foundation later honored them for their caring philanthropy, they shared the motto that had guided their lives: "Count your blessings, and make your blessings count."

What a wonderful reminder that God's gifts are meant to be shared for his glory.

Seeds of Victory

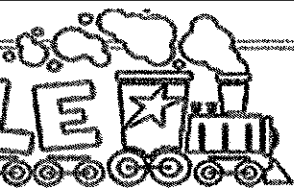

Months before the U.S. victory at the World War II Battle of Midway, important work was happening far from the ocean. Code analysts were quietly studying Japanese messages, using early tools that came long before the computers we know today. Their careful work helped crack a code and gave American forces the warning they needed to avoid an ambush.

It makes you wonder what those long days felt like. Did the analysts ever grow tired of searching for answers? Did they wonder whether their efforts mattered? Did they feel discouraged when the breakthrough had not yet come?

We can understand that feeling. Christians sometimes grow weary, too. We wonder whether teaching children about Jesus is making a difference. We wonder whether small acts of kindness, quiet prayers or faithful service will ever bear fruit. We see sin, sorrow and brokenness around us and wonder how victory will come.

But God sees what we cannot. No faithful work done for him is wasted. The Spirit who helps us plant seeds of truth and love is also able to bring the harvest. And because of Christ, the final victory is already secure.

PUZZLE

Acts tells us about a man named Cornelius. He was a Roman soldier who worshiped God and prayed with his family. God used Cornelius to help Peter learn an important truth: God welcomes everyone who loves Him and does what is right.

Solve the math problems using the grid. Then use the key to find the letter for each answer. Write each letter on the blank to discover what Cornelius and his family did.

Our Mission Statement

Prince of Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church is a loving family, forgiven by Jesus Christ, who through prayer and the work of the Holy Spirit are called to be actively living, learning, and growing in the Word of God and are being sent out to share the Gospel with our neighbors through our words and deeds.

We are a member congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and its Southwestern Pennsylvania Synod.

We serve the Greater Latrobe community as part of the Greater Latrobe Ministerial Association.
